

NOVEMBER 1, 2007

WINE ENTHUSIAST[®]

M A G A Z I N E

CALIFORNIA RED WINES

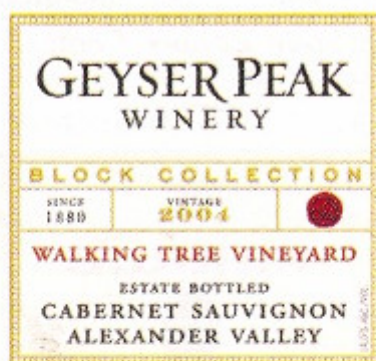

CABERNET SAUVIGNON

92 Geyser Peak 2004 Walking Tree Vineyard Cabernet Sauvignon (Alexander Valley); $47. A lovely, balanced, elegant young Cab. We're not in Napa Valley anymore, for the wine has a dried cherry herbaceousness and different tannin structure, but it defines the style that made Alexander Valley famous for Cabernet Sauvignon. For all those who complain that Cab isn't food-friendly, this one is. Ageability is almost guaranteed. Best now through 2014, with proper cellar-ing. Cellar Selection. —S.H.

WINE ENTHUSIAST[®]

M A G A Z I N E

Buying Guide

92 Geysler Peak 2004 Walking Tree Vineyard Cabernet Sauvignon (Alexander Valley); $47. A lovely, balanced, elegant young Cab. We're not in Napa Valley anymore, for the wine has a dried cherry herbaraceousness and different tannin structure, but it defines the style that made Alexander Valley famous for Cabernet Sauvignon. For all those who complain that Cab isn't food-friendly, this one is. Ageability is almost guaranteed. Best now through 2014, with proper cellaring. Cellar Selection.